Projects

M.Tech Project:

Title: Evaluating Capacity in RCC Frame Structures with and without Infill Wall

Description: This project analyzes the structural capacity of Reinforced Cement Concrete (RCC) frame structures with and without infill walls. The study involves assessing load-bearing capacities, seismic performance, and structural integrity under different conditions. The findings help in optimizing design approaches for enhanced durability and safety.

Java Project:

Title: Employee Management System

Description: Developed a full-stack Employee Management System using Java, Spring Boot, Hibernate, and MySQL. The application enables HR teams to manage employee records, track attendance, and generate reports efficiently. Features include CRUD operations, authentication, and RESTful API integration for seamless communication between the frontend and backend.
