PROJECTS

Title: COLD CHAIN OPERATIONS AND IT'S IMPACT IN INDIA (SYNERGY MARITIME)

As part of my MBA in Logistics and Supply Chain Management, I conducted a detailed study on cold chain logistics in India, focusing on sectors such as agriculture, pharmaceuticals, and food processing. The project aimed to understand the structure and functioning of cold chain operations, evaluate challenges in infrastructure and technology, and analyze their impact on reducing post-harvest losses and improving product shelf-life. I researched key government initiatives, policy support, and the integration of modern technologies like IoT-based temperature monitoring and GPS tracking. Based on the findings, I provided recommendations for improving cold chain efficiency and sustainability to support India's growing supply chain demands.
